The aim of the Leeds Beckett Repository is to provide open access to our research, as required by funder policies and permitted by publishers and copyright law.

The Leeds Beckett repository holds a wide range of publications, each of which has been checked for copyright and the relevant embargo period has been applied by the Research Services team.

We operate on a standard take-down policy. If you are the author or publisher of an output and you would like it removed from the repository, please contact us and we will investigate on a case-by-case basis.

Each thesis in the repository has been cleared where necessary by the author for third party copyright. If you would like a thesis to be removed from the repository or believe there is an issue with copyright, please contact us on openaccess@leedsbeckett.ac.uk and we will investigate on a case-by-case basis.

How do students submit a Turnitin assignment?

In order to submit a Turnitin assignment, students must first locate the assignment link in your module and click View Assignment. This is why we advise setting this up in the Assignments content area, so it is easy to find.

If you have followed our recommended settings, then students can resubmit as many times as they want until the due date. The submission process is the same each time, but there may be a delay of up to 48 hours to regenerate the similarity report.

 Example Turnitin Assignment

The submission process is demonstrated in the video below. This video (and other student guides) are available on the Library website.

A screenshot of a web-based training module interface. On the left is a vertical sidebar with a "MODULE MANAGEMENT" header and a list of menu items: Control Panel, Content Collection, Module Tools, Student Engagement, Grade Centre, Users and Groups, Customisation, Packages and Utilities, and Help. The main content area has a grey header "Welcome to the module". Below it is a section titled "Turnitin - Assignment Set Up and Submission" with a small icon. The "Introduction" section contains text about the online training module and a red "Begin training" button. The "Summary of topics" section lists 13 topics, with a blue arrow pointing to the 5th item, "Before you start - questions for your course team". The "Contact us" section mentions the Teaching and Learning Resources site and the "About Learning Systems" page. The "Looking for more training?" section mentions "face to face sessions and webinars" and "online training modules".

Feedback & the Future

Feedback

"Perhaps you could listen to it rather than read if that format is easier"

"Quick, online and straightforward"

"Useful to know all the info is there in case I forget something"

"I've refreshed my knowledge of all the basics, by doing this module. Great that it exists"

"Clear, lots of chance to practice, not too much information"

"Definitely add a certificate at the end of the test!"

Future

- ▷ Audio / video content
- ▷ Certificate / badge to celebrate achievement
- ▷ Update content based on queries
- ▷ New topics: online marking & feedback tools
