The aim of the Leeds Beckett Repository is to provide open access to our research, as required by funder policies and permitted by publishers and copyright law.

The Leeds Beckett repository holds a wide range of publications, each of which has been checked for copyright and the relevant embargo period has been applied by the Research Services team.

We operate on a standard take-down policy. If you are the author or publisher of an output and you would like it removed from the repository, please contact us and we will investigate on a case-by-case basis.

Each thesis in the repository has been cleared where necessary by the author for third party copyright. If you would like a thesis to be removed from the repository or believe there is an issue with copyright, please contact us on openaccess@leedsbeckett.ac.uk and we will investigate on a case-by-case basis.

How can the Research Services Team Support you?

Symplectic Elements

Research Management System critical for REF eligibility

You can:

- Create records for all your research outputs
- Upload your Author Accepted Manuscript for REF compliance
- Display a publication feed on your staff profile

*Save evidence of impact and link to manuscripts*

We will:

- Check your records & files then deposit in the Leeds Beckett Repository
- Support audits of works and other assessments

How can the Research Services Team Support you?

Leeds Beckett Repository

Essential for making research outputs Open Access (and REF compliant)

- High Google Ranking ensures good discoverability
- Worldwide engagement with research
- Reach communities outside the academic sphere
- Supports impact

*Generate interest in your work even before publication*

Be REF Compliant: Upload within 3 months of acceptance

Log In

Symplectic Impact Module

Benefits:

- Capture impact as you go
- Link to multiple outputs
- Link to other Leeds Beckett researchers
- Add evidence from external people and organisations where applicable
- Supports with creation of REF case studies by storing everything in one place!

Who manages your impact?

- The Impact Officers currently help staff to collate evidence and manage case studies in Symplectic
- Your Director of Research will also be able to provide ideas and suggestions for evidence requirements and case study information

Impact is underpinned by your research outputs!

It's imperative your REF eligible outputs are compliant by uploading the correct file to Symplectic within 3 months of acceptance for publication.

Open access and Impact

Impact inside academia:

- Citation advantage
- Supporting, or driving forward, other areas of research

“Having a green [Open Access] copy of a paper is the most impactful research communication strategy...”

(Archambault, Côté, Struck & Voorons, 2016).

Impact outside academia:

- Citizen science and public engagement
- Access to research for developing countries
- Wider debate and discussion

Demonstrating Impact with Altmetrics

Evidence of the impact your outputs are having beyond academia e.g. on Twitter, Facebook, Mendeley.

You can view Altmetrics on Repository records and in your Symplectic account.

Want more advice or tips?

Contact us for Digital Footprint training!

Staff Profiles

Keep your staff profile up-to-date so other researchers, organisations & journalists can find you.

Use your profile to demonstrate your research skills and expertise.

Use your staff profile as the 'single point of truth' and link other academic/ social media profiles to it.

Summary

- The Research Services team in LLI support your use of Symplectic Elements and the Leeds Beckett Repository
- These two systems are essential for impact because they store, organise and disseminate your research, making it REF compliant and Open Access
- Open Access has the power to increase the impact of your work by improving discoverability and making it freely accessible worldwide
- The new Impact Module in Symplectic enables the storing of evidence and the linking to research outputs & other stakeholders
