

A QUESTION OF METHOD

Teaching in the Social Sciences at Post-Soviet Universities

Edited by A. Salem

CIVIC EDUCATION PROJECT
Budapest • Washington DC

Edited by A. Salem
Published by Civic Education Project 2002
© Civic Education Project, authors and photographers 2002

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without the prior permission of the publisher.
All opinions expressed in material contained within this publication are those of the authors and not necessarily those of the editor or publisher.

Civic Education Project

Europe: H-1051 Budapest, Nador utca 9, Hungary
US: 1717 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Suite # 506, Washington DC, 20036-2001

Civic Education Project is a non-governmental organisation dedicated to extending the democratic project through collaboration with universities in Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union. CEP works in close cooperation with Central European University and Yale University. Its Visiting Fellowships provide support to Western scholars taken from universities in North America and Western Europe and looking to teach for at least one academic year at a host university in the region. Its Local Fellowships provide support for up to two years to Western-trained scholars from the region intending to start an academic career in their home countries. These Fellowships cover a broad range of disciplines from law through the social sciences to the humanities. Starting out in 1991 with 15 Visiting Lecturers teaching at eight universities in what was then Czechoslovakia, CEP now supports well over 200 Fellows teaching at nearly 100 institutions in 19 countries. No other educational organisation operating in Central and Eastern Europe and the old Soviet Union has such an extensive network of scholars based in the region.

ISBN-99928-0-399-1

Designed by Irakli Khutsishvili and A. Salem
Printed by SMArt Ltd. in Tbilisi, Georgia

Contents

List of Illustrations/Picture Credits	IV
Acknowledgements	VI
1 Preface	1
Part I Teaching and Learning in the Present Situation
2 From Preaching to Teaching: Problems of Transition in Post-Soviet Universities Giorgi Khelashvili	13
3 Education and Democracy: The Role of New Teaching Methods in Building a Democratic System of Education in Azerbaijan Etibar Najafov	26
4 A Question of Method: Challenges of Teaching in Azerbaijan and Kyrgyzstan Piers von Berg	36
Part II New Teaching and Learning Techniques
5 Motivation and Education: Understanding the Importance of Incentive in the Educational Process with Specific Reference to Georgia Levan Gigineishvili	55
6 Stimulating Simulations: Role Playing as a Form of Active Learning in the University Environment Donnacha Ó Beacháin	71
7 Cooperative Learning in Undergraduate Education: Guidelines and Tips Anush Shahverdyan	97
8 Two Active Teaching Methods Tina Zurabishvili	107
9 Teaching Methodology and Language Curriculum Development Afgan Abdullayev	117
Part III Broader Contexts
10 Using the 'Sociological Imagination' Inside and Outside the Classroom Daniel Moses	128
11 Civic Education in Formerly Communist Countries: A Critical Analysis A. Salem	146