The aim of the Leeds Beckett Repository is to provide open access to our research, as required by funder policies and permitted by publishers and copyright law.

The Leeds Beckett repository holds a wide range of publications, each of which has been checked for copyright and the relevant embargo period has been applied by the Research Services team.

We operate on a standard take-down policy. If you are the author or publisher of an output and you would like it removed from the repository, please contact us and we will investigate on a case-by-case basis.

Each thesis in the repository has been cleared where necessary by the author for third party copyright. If you would like a thesis to be removed from the repository or believe there is an issue with copyright, please contact us on openaccess@leedsbeckett.ac.uk and we will investigate on a case-by-case basis.

Supplement B: Supplementary Statistical Analyses

Completion of the SBQ Open-ended Questions

Overall, 53.0% of participants provided a written account of a victimisation experience; these were typically first-person accounts (46.3%) or a friend's experience (44.8%), rather than both them and a friend (9.0%). Fewer participants (31.6%) provided a written account of bullying others, though these were more commonly first-person accounts (57.5%) than bullying undertaken by a friend (37.5%) or both the participant and a friend (5.0%).

Factor Analysis Assumptions and Parallel Analysis Results

The SBQ-V items were suitable for factor analysis: no item correlated more than .9, Bartlett's test of sphericity was significant ($\chi^2(300) = 2495.91, p < .001$), and the KMO value was .79. Item 13 correlated only .25 with at least one other item, but as this was close to the criterion of .3, the item was retained. Parallel analysis indicated a five-factor solution.

The SBQ-B items were suitable for factor analysis: all items correlated at least .3 with at least one other item, no item correlated more than .9, Bartlett's test of sphericity was significant ($\chi^2(300) = 4449.57, p < .001$), and the KMO value was .86. Parallel analysis indicated a three-factor solution; however, the eigenvalue for the third factor of the raw data permutation (1.55) was only slightly higher than the eigenvalue required for the 95% percentile (1.53), and the factor analysis produced a third factor with only one item with a loading of $\geq .4$. Therefore, the factor analysis was recomputed with the number of factors fixed to two.

Non-significant ANOVA Findings for the SBQ-V by Country and Participant Sex

(The adjusted criterion p -value was .008).

There was no significant main effect for country on the SBQ-V total, $F(4, 228) = 1.75, p = .14, \omega^2 = .01$, or country by sex interaction, $F(4, 228) = 1.89, p = .11, \omega^2 = .01$.

For the Sexual harassment subscale, there was no significant interaction between country and sex, $F(4, 240) = 1.81, p = .13, \omega^2 = .01$.

For Appearance-based victimisation, there was no significant main effect for country, $F(4, 240) = 2.10, p = .081, \omega^2 = .02$, or country by sex interaction, $F(4, 240) = 0.59, p = .67, \omega^2 = .000$.

For Pressure to be heterosexually active, there was no significant main effect for country, $F(4, 239) = 1.37, p = .25, \omega^2 = .006$, or sex, $F(1, 239) = 1.57, p = .21, \omega^2 = .002$, or a significant country by sex interaction, $F(4, 239) = 0.86, p = .49, \omega^2 = .000$.

For Sexual assault, there was no significant main effect for country, $F(4, 241) = 1.00, p = .41, \omega^2 = .000$, or country by sex interaction, $F(4, 241) = 2.22, p = .07, \omega^2 = .02$.

For bullying for or about Sexual experience, there was no significant main effect for country, $F(4, 234) = 2.92, p = .022, \omega^2 = .03$, or sex, $F(1, 234) = 0.002, p = .96, \omega^2 = .000$.

Non-significant ANOVA Findings for the SBQ-B by Country and Participant Sex

(The adjusted criterion p -value was .017).

There was no significant main effect for country on the SBQ-B total, $F(4, 226) = 2.55, p = .04, \omega^2 = .03$, or sex, $F(1, 226) = 3.15, p = .08, \omega^2 = .009$, or significant country by sex interaction, $F(4, 226) = 1.03, p = .40, \omega^2 = .000$.
